(b) Tooth problems may be registered with the GSSCC for dogs that have teeth which have been accidentally broken or surgically removed. The GSSCC will provide a letter to the owner indicating that the necessary documentation has been provided certifying that the tooth was originally there. Owners are to submit an X-ray of the tooth with the dog's registration and tattoo, or microchip number clearly shown on the X-ray, and a signed veterinary opinion letter stating the reason or circumstances for the missing tooth to the GSSCC Breed Warden

(c) In all cases, in which verification according to (a) is not possible, a certified letter from a veterinarian, with complete information on the dog's name, registration number, date of birth and tattoo/microchip number, detailing the damaged/missing tooth, with an x-ray copy needs to be submitted to the Breed Warden and originals presented to the breed judge if requested.

8.2 A judge's evaluation at breed shows is final. An appeal is not permitted.

8.6 Violations may result in disqualification of the dog, to the double-handler being asked to leave the property, to initiation of an internal club procedure against the owner and the double-handler.

8.7 The officiating show chairperson can present his/her own dog. During this time, however, an alternate show chairperson will be needed during this time

(b) On the direction of the judge, the handler will heel their dog on leash to marker number one (1) and stop. The dog will go into the sit position to the handler's left side.

(c) While the dog is sitting beside the handler, the leash is removed. The handler will put the leash around their waist, over their shoulder or place it in a pocket.

(d) On direction of the judge, the handler will command the dog to heel and will proceed in the proper heel position toward the blind

(e) As the dog and handler near the blind and on the direction of the judge, the helper simulates an attack on the handler. The helper takes a direct path toward the handler in a threatening manner. Should the dog not engage, the helper will continue towards the handler until the judge tells the helper to stop.

(f) When the dog engages, the helper will continue to threaten. During the threats, the dog will endure the stick stress test with a padded stick on the dog's withers. The helper will continue until the judge directs the helper to stop.

(g) After the helper has stopped, the handler at the direction of the judge will be allowed a maximum of three (3) commands to have the dog release the grip. The handler may not touch the dog in any way to assist in the release of the grip until after the maximum three (3) commands to release have been given.

(h) On the direction of the judge, the handler will approach the dog, take control, and place the leash on the collar, or free heel to a spot (blind) designated by the judge

(i) On the direction of the judge the handler and dog will come out of the blind and heel on or off leash to the marker. At this point the dog will be sitting to the handler's left side. The leash will be removed (if on), and the handler will take a firm hold of the collar.

(j) On the direction of the judge the helper will walk out of blind to approximately half the width of the field. The helper will turn and run towards the handler and dog. Sometime after the helper turns toward the dog, the judge will direct the handler to send the dog on the attack. The handler may move forward at a walking pace only until the dog and helper have made contact. At that point, the handler must stand still unless directed otherwise by the judge.

(k) The helper will continue toward the dog in a threatening manner. The helper will catch the dog in an appropriate manner as not to injure the dog. If the dog does not engage, the helper will continue the motion toward the dog until the judge directs the helper to stop.

When the dog does engage, the helper will continue to move forward while constantly threatening the dog with the stick until the judge tells the helper to stop.

(l) When the helper has stopped and on the direction of the judge the handler will be allowed three (3) commands to have the dog release the grip. The handler cannot be any closer than ten (10) meters from the dog during the out commands.

(m) After the dog has released, and on the direction of the judge, the handler will approach the dog and put the leash on the collar or free heel. The exercise is completed.

(n) Disqualification:

Three times dog does not show free heeling beside handler to the blind. Handler leaves the position from where the dog is sent to the helper. Dog does not release after three commands. Dog grips other parts of the body, other than the protection sleeve. Physical action of the handler.

10.1 Breed judges will rate overall performance and strength of all dogs in the performance test. “Pronounced, present, insufficient. Dog releases or dog does not release”.
